Modern rock-funk with deep style and a feel-good flavor... heartfelt lyrics, strong vocals, and snappy hooks make this a many-repeat listen. 6 MP3 Songs ROCK: Funk Rock, POP: Power Pop Details: Where style births from substance... Morgan Finlay's music, an organic mix of modern rock and easy funk, finds us all in both our most electrifying, and our quietest moments... and pushes us to go back to familiar places, to get to know them again. As we travel life's highways and move on, his songs confidently urge us to speak to ourselves... and listen. And now, with Morgan Finlay's debut EP release, 'Uppercut' receiving accolades from around the globe, the record has been widely accepted at campus radio around Ontario, and more recently, was picked up by CBC Radio, which has been broadcasting 'Uppercut's songs across Canada. Co-produced by Matt Dematteo (Danko Jones, Big Wreck), the six original rock/funk songs on 'Uppercut' amply demonstrate Morgan's honest, introspective song-writing and unique vocal abilities. Past performances include the Bell Freedom Festival (opening for Tom Cochrane), a host of campus dates (including the Universities of Toronto, Waterloo, Windsor, Queen's University, Humber College), shows in Toronto clubs (the Rivoli, the Cameron House, C'est What), and for charity events. Originally from North Vancouver and now based in Toronto (after a creative period in Montreal), Morgan Finlay is a songwriter who has been performing since the age of five, and writes all his own songs. Visitors to Morgan's impressive web presence, morganfinlay.com, can enjoy reading the latest news, stay abreast of upcoming events and happenings, and browse through the site's various contemporary features.
