HIP HOP/RAP: West Coast Rap, HIP HOP/RAP: Hardcore Rap Details: Bio Be Gee More than just another rap artist "Be Gee" has pioneered as an underground rapper. Born Anthony in Seattle Wa. Was raised in Sacramento Ca in the Meadoview community where his rap skills were well known. He became involved in the Hip Hop culture at an early age, high school was a major stepping stone where he along with classmates would use their school yard on break as a music platform and they would exchange lyrical verses between one another which would only be the beginning of a rap success. Be Gee released his first freshman album "Ya Gotta BG" in 1993 that sold a number of copies that would place him as one of Sacramento's top selling rap artist. As Be Gee continued to struggle to keep his name out doing local rap shows and performing at the local parties he then in 1996 released his sophomore album "Black Gorilla Mila Tactics" with such hits as Whose the Blame, Capable of Murder and Sex Phen 2. After this release he traveled city to city and state to state creating an even larger fan base and spreading his name worldwide. He has appeared on many compilations and solo albums, such as Leaving The Life with the hard hitting song, "3 The Hard Way " featuring Brotha Lynch Loki such solo albums as Prime Ministers, "No Compromise" he also has worked very closely with First Degree The D.E. on numerous projects and performances. Attending college at Sac City Be Gee is currently an active student in a music business class, Divercity Records which is a nonprofit record label that is helping push his career, the class has landed him an article in the Sacramento Bee and also an appearance on the local news program Good Day Sacramento, Be Gee is in charge of marketing and distribution and plans to do live shows and performances in schools across the city. Now ten years later since the freshman album Be Gee is dropping his senior album "The Postcard" which plans to hit the stores June 2003 and threw the
