

Mp3 David Rubinstein Plays Busoni And Bach-busoni - Classical: Piano Solo

DOWNLOAD HERE

"A formidable pianist" (Chicago Sun-Times) - A rare performance of the complete Busoni Elegies, coupled with the Bach-Busoni Chaconne in D minor 8 MP3 Songs CLASSICAL: Piano solo, CLASSICAL: Keyboard Music Show all album songs: David Rubinstein plays Busoni and Bach-Busoni Songs Details: Compelling performances, unique artistic vision and imaginative programming are the hallmarks of David Rubinstein's concerts. His performances typically feature significant lesser-known repertoire which deserve greater prominence, such as the Prokofiev Fourth Sonata and the Busoni Elegies. David Rubinstein made his American debut at the age of nineteen at the National Gallery of Art in an acclaimed performance of Bach's Goldberg Variations, and his U.K. debut at London's Wigmore Hall. He has appeared in recitals and orchestras throughout the U.S. and Europe, including the 2007 Whittier College Bach Festival, the San Diego Convention Center, the Dame Myra Hess Series in Chicago, Merkin Hall, Carnegie Recital Hall, Lincoln Center, the Warsaw Chopin Society, Hilversum Radio, the Long Island Beethoven Festival and the Chautauqua Festival. His reputation for playing contemporary music and sightreading ability have established him as one of the most sought-after pianists in the major Hollywood film studios such as 20th Century Fox, Warner Bros., Sony Studios and Universal. In September 2007 he was added to the Musicians Roster of the Los Angeles County Arts Commission. Additional career highlights include the acclaimed world premiere recording of Sibelius piano works, originally issued by Musical Heritage Society and currently re-issued on Musicus Recordings. He has given concerts featuring the works of American composers such as Charles Griffes and Aaron Copland at the American Landmark Festivals, as well as performing his own works.

DOWNLOAD HERE

Similar manuals:

MP3 In Color - In Color \(the Lamp Album\)