But the journey here is also mythological, archetypal, and personal. Delving into ancient lands and lost kingdoms takes us back in time while examining solar systems, galaxies, and constellations moves us forward. For Misevis, the vehicle for the journey, both internally and externally, is the instrument he has played since age four, the piano. He chooses not to incorporate the exotic sounds he has heard in his world travels, but rather let his internal sounds flow through his acoustic grand piano. His world and music has been colored by his journeys and he references lost kingdoms, ancient gods, and far-off planets as part of his soul traveling. The listener is encouraged to take the journey, wherever it goes. For some it may be a soul-searching path, a divine act of surrender, or merely a relaxing moment. For others nostalgia, memories, or their own travels may come to mind. The music is about letting go. A journey is not just about a destination, rather it is the process of moving. And the best journeys happen when we let go. Enjoy the ride. - Iris Brooks

The texturizing sound of the 7 4 August Forster concert grand piano coupled with the healing intent in the performance of Soul Traveler can stimulate a deep mysticomimetic experience that can resonate a clearing of the vibrational baggage of blocked and repressed energy centers from childhood or other traumas. This in turn opens emotional blockages to clear and start the energy juice flowing again. Soul Traveler stimulates a reconnection of spiritual consciousness that uplinks us to our most subtle energies and the healing Chi of the universe. The wellspring of Soul Traveler flows with the feng shui of my surroundings. The lakes, artesian springs, mountains and waterfalls charge the reflective, seductive, gentle flowing and meditatively magnetic spiritual healing flavor of my music with Earth, wind and water energies. People who listen to Soul Traveler will tell me that they feel more restored, more calm and have enhanced intuition and creativity but the most common reaction I get from listeners is that it is so soothing and relaxing. I feel this is one of the most important reasons to listen to Soul Traveler. "I sometimes feel like a musical geomancer directing subtle celestial and earth energies in my spontaneous meditative compositions and when I listen to them afterward, Im totally amazed. Did I do that? I ask myself. It awakens me again. It takes my mind, spirit, and body beyond ordinary time into other dimensions beyond relaxation. I notice channels of subtle energies opening and physical responses like lower blood pressure, reduced heart rate, and more alpha and theta wave production, etc. Ill sometimes get swept away in a calm contemplation and start consciously breathing while unconsciously stretching or doing yoga even if Im working. When alone in a quiet place, I empty my mind, elevate my consciousness and open my chakras with chi gong to re-link energetically with the healing energies of the earth." - Kevin Misevis Soul Traveler will take you on a relaxation journey.
