In their debut album, Larry Krause and Lew Winter (longtime friends) have come together to create an acoustic, easy listening collection of songs they have written which is both fun yet leaves you feeling better than you were before listening to them. 14 MP3 Songs FOLK: Gentle, EASY LISTENING: Love Songs Details: Larry Krause and Lew Winter have been writing and playing music for over 30 years. They play an acoustic folk style that is easy to listen to and give a profound simplicity to thought provoking music. Lew and Larry have performed in both California and Utah for audiences of all ages. Their songs reflect hope and the belief that love is the most important thing in our life. Larry Krause is an LCSW (licensed clinical social worker), currently a therapist at Family Support and Treatment Center in Utah; and has worked with abused victims there for over 11 years. Lew Winter is a Learning Specialist and has been teaching Special Education for over 12 years in California; currently working in The Modesto School District at Davis High School. This first album "Dreamed All Night" has been received by many people as a healing, uplifting message of hope. Both Larry and Lew use music as a form of communication and a valuable tool in their work with children and adults. They have been influenced by Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young; Peter, Paul and Mary; The Beatles; and James Taylor (just to mention a few). "Dreamed All Night" was inspired by Larry's father. He had a dream one night and awoke to write down what had happened. The next day he discovered that the message had been thrown away yet the feelings strongly remained. Such is the foundation for the journey weaved in the words and music of each song contained in the album.
