contemporary classical 16 MP3 Songs CLASSICAL: Contemporary, CLASSICAL: Traditional Details: The compositions of Thomas Schuttenhelm are cherished by performers for their exquisite craft and richness of style, and equally loved by audiences for their enjoyable richness of melodic and rhythmic expression. His compositions can be heard on numerous recordings and have been performed throughout the country and abroad by such artists as: the Alturas Duo, the Adaskin String Trio, classical guitarist Eliot Fisk, pianist Paul Bisaccia, the Goldspiel/Provost Classical Guitar Duo, bassist Volkan Orhon, the Connecticut Trio, and the Connecticut Yankee Chorale. His piano music was featured on the PBS (WGBY-Springfield, WGBH-Boston) special "The Great American Piano." In addition to composing for some of Americas top soloists and ensembles, Thomas Schuttenhelm is also an experienced performer and scholar. He received his doctorate in Composition and Guitar Performance from The Hartt School of the University of Hartford. He has performed electric guitar with the FIREWORKS Ensemble, a contemporary music ensemble; collaborated with the Wellspring Dance Company, a performance art company based in New York; toured with Purple Rock Productions, a diverse theater group, performing on guitar and balalaika; and is a composer/performer member of the Boston Public Works Contemporary Music Series held at Harvard University. He has taught guitar, theory, and music history at the Greater Hartford Academy of the Arts, and is currently teaching at Central Connecticut State University. He serves on the board of the Connecticut Classical Guitar Society and has published several articles on the history and performance of guitar in the journal Soundboard. He is a contributing author to an edition on Fernando Sor and has recently completed a book: "The Selected Letters of Michael Tippett," which is published by Faber.
