Combines attention-getting writing title with personal earnest lyrics and tops it off with skillful vocals. This 9 track debut showcases his supreme talent and depth as a musician and songwriter. Taking influence from Stevie Wonder, Chaka Khan, Erykah Badu, and Lauryn Hill he takes ideas and forms them into his own unique title. Don't let the picture fool you....this aint no ordinary white boy. "How I Seem to Be is a reflection upon the stereotypes and expectations my image carries into my music. Listeners are often surprised to see me and then hear the music that truly shows what I am all about".-Adam Joseph Is the world ready for Adam Joseph? Don't let the baby face fool you. This blue eyed soul singer has exploded onto the scene with a debut that has music insiders comparing him to the likes of Anita Baker, Jill Scott, and Erykah Badu. His diverse background (hip hop + reggae + jazz + soul) vintage charm, and soft spoken charisma all foster this old souls unique title of musicianship. Adam attended the prestigious Berklee College of Music where his aspirations wholeified. His original band "The Elegant Children" was formed. They toured the east coast to consistantly growing audiences. The incredible response to his fresh approach to soul music encouraged the making of his debut album. Unwilling to compromise his original heavy, Joseph took all aspects of creation into his own hands. Joseph wrote, arranged, and produced the entire album. The result is a smart blend of soul and pop, attention-getting hooks and deep earnest lyrics. This first opus is a real journey through a young artist's mind and soul. Quotes: "Someone's been doing there Homework"-after scattting with Dianne Reeves "That Boy is BAD!!!"- Brenda Russell "White boy can sing!!"- Patti Austin "If Anita Baker reincarnated as a white boy..."- Medusa This indie artist has already been featured in OUT Magazine which has gained him national recognition. Look out for the CD at listening stations at Barnes and Noble and Borders Nationwide!!!
