He likes to test the waters of the music industry and then break through all the walls that try to block him along the way. Along with producing music, he finds comfort in art. Life wasn't always easy for DJ Clinton. He grew up in a very small town in NorthEastern Arkansas, so at 17, he decided to get in his car and leave. Since then, he's never looked back. One of the most powerful traits that DJ Clinton has is his diversity. He loves everytype of music. This album was produced to show that he can produce almost every genre of music today such as: Trance/Activisto/House. This album is a looking glass into his soul. He also decided to produce this album to help those that are like him, that have gone through some very rough patches in their life, and those who every once in a while get the urge just to dance. It's a great album for everyone to have.
