

Mp3 Jessica Haines & Mark Kaiser - So Here's To You

A smoky, vibrantly expressive Celtic alto that can, at times, inspire weak knees, Jessica Haines is a master storyteller augmented by Mark Kaiser's innovative instrumental arrangements that infuse each song with an undeniable vitality and electricity. 17 MP3 Songs WORLD: Celtic, FOLK: Traditional Folk Details: So, do you like traditional Irish/Scottish/American folk music? If you appreciate Niamh Parsons, Susan McKeown, June Tabor, Cathy Ryan, Natalie Merchant, and/or Suzanne Vega, you definitely need to take a moment, click on the tracks to the left here and take a quick listen. You will find a sweet, rich voice singing murder ballads, sea shanties, and stories about strong women and men, supplemented by guitar rhythms that are engaging while still providing fertile ground for Jessica's well-voiced melodies. Jessica Haines has a rich, deep ethereal quality to her voice -- one which has been characterized as a "voice for the ages." A master storyteller, she adores broadsides, ballads, and seafaring tales that recount the deed and misdeeds of lovers, drunkards, heroes, and heroines. Her humor and passion are readily served by her strong, dusky alto voice. Always energetic, Marks innovative arrangements and spirited picking seems to come from deep within his soul, and brings an energy and passion that pairs naturally with Jessicas emotive expression. "Jessica is one of the vocalists who can [...] 'yawdle.' It can be as noisy as can be, but once somebody starts singing, everybody shushes and listens to the person do their song." -- Kevin Gagen, pub co-owner, Castletown Geoghegan, Belleville, IL
