Some of the more recently written Cowboy/Western and Southwestern songs, sung in 2- and 3-part harmony with acoustic leads and backup, as well as two instrumentals featuring guitar, banjo, and autoharp. 14 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Western, FOLK: Modern Folk Details: Living in the far west, along with an early immersion in the Cowboy Way, sparked an interest for both Walt and Paula in all things Western. After years of varied musical experiences, they found Western Music, and, with their mutual love of history, everything came together. As interpreters of this music, they feel privileged to have been in contact with some of the finest songwriters of Western Music today. The tradition is alive and well and they feel fortunate to have the opportunity to help carry it on. WMA Harmony winners, Walt and Paula, are joined on this CD by Bruce Huntington, who adds his song-writing talent as well as harmony and very tasteful bass playing. And by excellent instrumentalist, Ken Wilcox on guitar and that well-known trail instrument - the autoharp - as well as on lead and harmony vocals.
