So I created a plugin that works in tandem with ClickBump Engine to make site setups super fast. I call it Click JumpStart and Ive just released version 2.5 I originally created JumpStart as a personal project to help me automate the various manual processes I have to do for every site I launch. Things like creating my Privacy Policy page, About Us and Contact Us, setting up my site theme and configuring site defaults. I found myself repeating the same exact routine over and over again with each new site Id create. I reasoned there had to be a better way. I searched around for a tool that would help me automated all these redundant and time intensive tasks and I came up empty. I then set out to create my own solution. And what was so very cool and so vital to my process is that once I did it, I could not imagine building a site without it.
