The "Country Performer of the Year" at the esteemed Detroit Music Awards, his original country sound mines a rich spectrum from bright country pop to bluegrass, from traditional country to the sounds of south of the border. 13 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Modern Country, COUNTRY: Traditional Country Details: Devin Scillian wears quite a few hats. He's the Emmy-award winning anchor for one of the top-rated newscasts in the country at WDIV-TV, NBC Detroit. He's the author of seven heralded children's books, including the national bestseller "A Is For America." And his singing and songwriting have won him fans all over the USA and Europe. "Tulsa" is Devin's second album, a collection of 13 original songs that runs the country spectrum from traditional country to bluegrass, from country pop to south of the border. The Detroit Free Press wrote that "Tulsa" brings to mind Jim Croce and Bruce Hornsby. Devin has opened for the likes of LeAnn Rimes and Reba McEntire and won the prestigious Detroit Music Award for Best Country Performer. He has performed at America's Thanksgiving Parade and the Budweiser Hoedown, the world's largest free country music festival. "Tulsa" is a showcase for a versatile, engaging and thoughtful writer and performer.
