Departure combines elements from indie rock, glitch, instrumental hip-hop, dub reggae, ambient jazz to create a soundtrack for a life spent between departure terminals hotels. 11 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Chill out, ELECTRONIC: Dub Details: Downtempo dub from the Canadian Independent Music Award winners. Departure is the 2008 album from FIDGITAL. It's a departure in many ways - few lyrics, slow tempos, sparse instrumentation a focus on emotion give Departure a mood sound unique in the FIDGITAL catalogue. The new sound subject matter were inspired by producer Keith Gillard's recent relocation to the San Francisco Bay Area. "Constant travelling prevented me establishing any sense of 'home' in my new environment. I explored isolation, alienation loneliness, I tried to show a path from despair to hope, peace joy." Departure combines elements from indie rock, glitch, instrumental hip-hop, dub reggae, ambient jazz to create a soundtrack for a life spent between departure terminals hotels. Press for previous FIDGITAL releases: FIDGITAL's live show is a high energy, tighter than tight musical romp through a vast catalogue of impressive tunes. - CBC Radio 3 Horns glamorous strings, dramatic neon romance, techno jazz influences. A new sound, widening the path paved by Jazzanova. (Editor's Pick) - Exclaim! Big band horns crunchy jazz chords in beautifully-written pop propelled by the funkier beats. Pet Shop Boys meet Manhattan Transfer at the coolest club in the universe. (4 stars) - The Edmonton Sun '80s pop, big beat jazzy house. Evokes a funkier Thievery Corp. Fun very stylish. - Vancouver Province 2 parts jazzy spy music, 1 part drum bass, a splash of jungle just the right amount of vocal you get this mellow, up-beat sound collage. Yummy. - Chart Slemko is reminiscent of Freddie Mercury. His easy-going, high-speed vocal delivery is a high point. A west coast jazz flavour that is infectious. - Tribe Acid jazz-flecked electro fusion beauty. I haven't heard a more imaginative band since Emergency Broadcast Network. Clubby beats with beautiful vocals. Absolutely fabulous. - Smother.net
