Details: From the tallgrass prairies of Iowa to the westward most hills of Washington, Joel Hagman has been cutting a path with his songwriting for the past six years. Long studies in jazz and appalachian music have given him a very unique and comforting sound of his own. His 2008 release of Caught on a Rail is a perfect example of this sound, ranging from locomotive driven to captivating guitar picking with sweetly drifting leads, Joel sets his voice and lyrics perfectly into the mix.
