Lovers of jazz, funk, rock, gospel and everything in between will feel divine inspiration course through veins, just by loading up this amazing CD and hitting "play". Three guys, distinguished artists in their separate fields, have spent years honing their talents. Earl Fleming has toured and performed with many of the top recording artists in the industry, and his magic fingers set his keyboard aflame. The complex and magical guitar work of songwriter and producer Kenny Hawkins, lends an emotional depth to this music that touches the soul. Bass player extraordinaire, touring veteran and music educator, Jerry Livingston, binds it all together with a rich, insistent rhythm. Seasoned musicians all, this album has lain dormant in their souls for some years. They carry within them music that bespeaks the steamy, funky Atlanta nightlife, the gritty realism of a Buffalo winter, and the bottomless faith of men with gospel in their hearts. Finally, after years of branching out in separate directions, these three soul-mates of over twenty years have come together to fulfill their dream of what each of them consider to be God's ultimate musical plan for them.
