Female pop-rock/folk/sometimes acoustic. Lyrics that go beyond and melodies that return. All in all worth a listen 8 MP3 Songs POP: Folky Pop, ROCK: Folk Rock Details: Reviews: Music Connection, February, 2003 A multi-award-winner with her finger on the pulse of female pop-rock, Smart's writing is strong and memorable and her performances are skilled. There is so much quality here..." Orange County Weekly, January, 2003 "We like her because she seems to change modes with each song... the title track kicks in, a rapturous, gritty tune... it's terrifyingly good, a perfect meshing of Smart's summery.

sweet-and-sour/tough-and-tender voice that tumbles over loud, strangely guitars and skull-spanking drum rolls, shying away from anything remotely wimpy. There are several other choice cuts here too, which makes us wonder where she has been hiding herself all this time..." Live Magazine, January 2003 "Niki has found the ability to touch the core of those who are fortunate enough to hear her. She paints an emotional, magical picture with words..." Bio: Smart has won several songwriting awards and contests including winning the Spree Song contest, the Demo derby online contest and voted best vocalist in the Best of the Best International contest. Smart was included in Music Connection's Top Ten demos of the year and was nominated for "Female singer/songwriter of the year" and "Pop song of the Year" for JPFolks, and also "Best Indie artist " for the OCMA.
