Details: In this second instrumental album, "Airs Two You", Steve Lalor digs deeper into his Celtic roots. The traditional tunes are played with the intensity and feeling of someone who has lived there, evoking the loneliness of the windswept Irish coast one minute and music night in a cozy Scottish pub the next. Steve's original compositions are beautifully crafted from his own experiences and artistic vision. His talented performance of these pieces carries you along to the deep, magical place that all inspiration comes from. He weaves the traditional, original and modern into a breathtaking soundscape of incredible depth and breadth. This is a musical journey, from the hills of Ireland, through graceful hymns and the balm of "Jesu", past the poignant interpretation of "Walk Away Renee" to New Zealand for "Aroha!" and back to Scotland to muse on "Auld Lang Syne". His diverse musical influences bring a fresh and unique approach to this music, carried out with his masterful guitar playing. This CD will transport you to another time and space, and you will be lighter of heart when you return.
