Details: Here's a real deal! A lover of the kind of bluegrass and country music that comes from a time and place before anybody watered it down. Francine is a modern-day incarnation of the likes of Molly O'Day ,Wilma lee Cooper,Patsy Cline, who can really get behind a song. There's no mistaking the sincerity that shines in Francine's voice and mandolin, because she's a great gal who puts her heart and soul into what she does. Now, who isn't gonna love that? Francine played for Josh Graves, Kenny Baker, Eddie Martha Adcock. Butch Baldassari taught Francine mandolin for many years in Nashville.
