Their concepts and lyrical content are firmly rooted in the word of God. Songs of forgiveness, love, relationship and understanding permeate their music and are boldly delivered through their gritty live performances. Their youthful energy and unpretentious style ensures that the listeners will be entertained but more importantly ministered too. After a predestined encounter in Brooklyn, NY, These two young men dedicated themselves to making music that would shine a light on those in darkness and fill the musical void felt by many young Christians who embrace the sounds of R&B and hip-hop, but reject it's overwhelming negative imagery. Last Kall understands that all things were created by God for God. All music, yes even hip-hop, was made to praise him and these two men are on a mission to take that which has been distorted and bring it back to its original purpose of praising the Most High. An alliance formed through the bond of friendship and Christian brotherhood, Thurston Daniel and Simian Child share the gospel through energetic performances that leave you wanting to hear more, and seeking to know God better. Their music exudes boldness like that of artist in the secular world but their message is clear, "Jesus Christ is the Last Kall either you're in or you're out."
