Chillout moods, sexy vibes, retro funk. Trip Hop meets Space Rock. Think Thievery Corporation meets Pink Floyd or Zero 7 meets Porcupine Tree. Also sounds like Massive Attack, The Flaming Lips, Beck Rain Tree Crow 15 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Down Tempo, ROCK: 70's Rock Details: Machine Love is an instrumental down-tempo, trip hop-space rock artist from the San Francisco Bay Area. Their music has been described as ambient groove, sexy chill-out, and electronica soul. The Machine Love signature sound creates an atmosphere that you can either ease back and get into or get up and groove with. Released in 2005 Supermarket Vamps is the second of four full-length releases. Influences include psychedelic, lounge, jazz, funk, and rock artists such as Thievery Corporation, Fila Brazilia, Visit Venus, Air, Pink Floyd, Cocteau Twins, Herbie Hancock, Porcupine Tree, Rise Robots Rise, Gus Gus, The Flaming Lips, Beck, Coldplay and Miles Davis. Here's what some reviewers have said: "This is just straight-up 'Booty-music', kinda like updated porno-funk...but better" -- ElectronicScene "The future sound of downtown without the bother of babble" -- GarageBand.com
