One must stay in his unique lyrical world long enough to get the true depth of his artistry." - Will Sexton "Nicholas Ginbey is a soulful singer-songwriter. Truly quirky and original. Because of this you may not get it your 1st couple of listens, but after acquiring a taste you will be a fan"- Gabe Rhodes (Grammy nominated guitar player) "Nicholas is a fun, talented and writer and we have a great time playing together. His songs range from coarse rockers to sweet ballads all the time sounding like the REAL true Nick." - Todd V. Wolfson (chronicle photographer) Note from artist: Growing up I never planned or dreamed of being a musician, but once I began writing songs it became such a passion that it truly put my life into perspective. As a songwriter my business is my emotions. So victories are incredibly rewarding and defeats are equally as disappointing, but during a growing process any artist must experience both. Yet no matter how much pain I have endured for my art, I have never thought twice or regretted my decision to pursue it; because it is what I love, and in essence you are what you love. "All the churches that line the road couldn't conjure the faith for you I hold"
