Shane Hines and the Trance combine elements of explosive acoustic rock, pop and blues music to create their own trademark sound. 6 MP3 Songs POP: Beatles-pop, ROCK: Acoustic Details: Shane Hines and the Trance are releasing their new extended play compact disc, Satellite Go Boom, on Tuesday, October 24. Fans of the band will be excited to know that the EP will feature five songs that are part of the live set, including two previously unreleased songs, Rockstar and Nothing At All. This project was something really fun for us to do. This EP was created purely for fans to enjoy until we release new material next year, said Brian Thumbs Keating, bass player for Shane Hines and the Trance and mastermind behind the creation of Satellite Go Boom. This new disc is special because it is all music that has been played by the band at shows, but never recorded in the studio until now. Shane Hines and the Trance wanted to keep the sound of the EP similar to a live recording. Shane Hines and the Trance have been together for three years, with two full length albums released in that time span. The band is based in Northern Virginia, and tours regionally. Shane Hines and the Trance is a band committed keeping their fans and people who support them happy. Their goal is to make it to the top through hard work and loyalty to fans.
