Hard-rockin', beer-chuggin' boogie and good-time honky-tonk blooze -- electrified drinking music for happy drunks. 11 MP3 Songs ROCK: Hard Rock, ROCK: Classic Rock Details: Imagine walking into a smoky, beer-soaked roadhouse with ZZ Top, Supersuckers and George Thorogood grinding out a relentless boogie groove together onstage. Meanwhile, David Lee Roth, Ted Nugent and Ween play poker in a corner booth while Slash and Chuck Berry shoot pool. You go to the bar to order a drink and the ghost of Waylon Jennings pours you a double bourbon ... That's the ultimate musical scenario behind the Electric Boogie Dawgz, a boogie-rock power trio from San Francisco. Bret sings and plays the electric guitar, Lewis plays the electric bass and John hits the drums. They love to play rock 'n' roll music, have a good time and entertain people (especially drunk ones.) There's nothing complicated, experimental, "alternative" or "challenging" at work here -- the Dawgz just want people to have fun, drink a lot and come back again and again until they fall down in a drunken stupor, then come back again with their friends! Basically, the Electric Boogie Dawgz make music that rocks. It's fun and it certainly doesn't sound like Staind or Dave Matthews or any of that nonsense.
