PERFORMING SONGWRITER magazine's praise for "Good Luck Places" (May/June 2003): "Eyler pays homage to the City of Brotherly Love through excellent lyrics and guitar playing and compositions steeped in honest, classic soul...he has the hearty, rich voice of a soul singer twice his age, and his melodies call to mind forefathers such as Al Green and Jimi Hendrix and contemporaries such as Paul Weller and Sonia Dada." Greensboro, NC, NEWS AND RECORD (May 2003) FIVE STAR Review: "Eyler's deep, heart-felt vocals swim alongside melodies that could have come from just about any era...(though) he has a style all his own."
