URBAN/R&B: Urban, POP: Today's Top 40 Show all album songs: Plan B Songs Details: About Bridgette Angelique Bridgette Angelique- "R&B singing/songwriting sensation." This latina was born April 9th 1984, in Long Island, N.Y. Bridgette quickly took on a strong fascination with music ranging from Salsa, to Hip Hop. However, it was the constant play of classic R&B music in her home that grew Bridgettes musical ear to the soul driven genre. Long and behold at the age of 3, her gifts started to unveil such as, her dancing that had rhythmic grace and poise in each step, a voice that could capture a noisy, crowded room in silent awe, and charisma that would shine through her light brown eyes and dimpled smile. She had all the star qualities, which wasnt the issue, but it was how to take her talent in the direction of stardom.  Bridgette participated in many activities in and out of school. All where she could further develop her skills, win awards along the way, and do what she loved doing best performing. She sang in talent shows, danced in dance competitions, did local plays, chorus, show choir in which she was choreographer for one year, she was apart of a non-profit group, The Traveling Hispanic Theatre, and the list goes on and on. But aside from Bridgettes notable leisure pursuits, she also has a skill for writing. With constant desire for expressing herself, she took special interest in writing poems. It became her outlet for dealing with everyday issues she or others experienced, and the emotions that took place, conveying her thoughts and beliefs, and just talking from the heart. Eventually she would go on to transforming her poems into songs where it hasnt been until now, that she has introduced her songwriting ability to the public, with songs she has recorded. She is slowly being recognized for her gifts, which leads us to Bridgette today as she has been going through many trials and tribulations getting to where she wants to be as the star she aspires to be, and has always dreamt of.  Bridgette recently graduated from Five Towns College with an Associates Degree in Music Business and is creating a buzz with her unique, sultry voice, and clever lyrics. With her creative and enlightening music inspired from a range of artists such as Whitney Houston, Stevie Wonder, The Temptations, Aaliyah, and Destinys Child to name a few. Also following in the footsteps of the late, Big Pun in being taken serious in the genre your in by proving yourself not to be a stereotype and Jennifer Lopez, who has paved the way for young Hispanic woman to have commercial success, Bridgette strives to keep the torch lit by the impressions left by her mentors by giving 110 in everything she does and start a legacy of her own.
