Details: In the ancient times all creation lived together respectfully in peace harmony. When the Two-Leggeds started walking on the path of disrespect dominance over creation, it was the beginning of sickness disease. Since those times there have been Elders who have handed down knowledge of the Ancient Ones. Today many of our Elders are crossing over without handing down this valuable knowledge this is a great loss. The prophecies tell of extreme change that will come for all creation. We are at a crossroad. The time is now. More than ever this is a time of urgency to pay attention to learn. Now, we are in the 21st Century a White Buffalo Calf was born in a small Woodland Zoo in Farmington, PA. This calf was named Kenahkihinen which means in the Lenape language, Watch-Over-Us. The name itself is a prayer. The birth of this calf is a warning; we are dangerously out of balance. Two-Leggeds have gone beyond walking the path of disrespect dominance. The present path is a path of destruction. We need to unite to bring a balance of respect/healing to Mother Earth, to our minds, our spirits, to all creation to ourselves. Our ancestors have taught that our thoughts, our words, our actions reflect all life. Our society, our environment have changed radically. We need to put into action positive/healing ways to survive in the 21st Century. What legacy are we leaving for our descendants? These are songs of hope; of gratitude. Together we can make a positive difference; a positive change. We give thanks to Creator. We thank Kenahkihinen for coming with this valuable message.
