Acoustic, lyric driven folky pop, with a touch of soul, a pinch of humor and a dash of Americana. This new release from Lindsay is music to our ears. 14 MP3 Songs FOLK: Folk-Rock, POP: Folky Pop Details: Los Angeles-based singer/songwriter Lindsay Tomasic creates incandescent music that glows with sensitivity and soulfulness. Her latest album, What In The World, is compelling and vibrant with sonic surprises and clever metaphors. With songs that speak to us about love, life, family and the state of the planet, What In The World takes you on a free flowing ride. Although many of the songs were penned by Lindsay alone, the album features a handful of notable collaborations with songwriters, Lisa Rapport, Lauren Wood and Stephen Chase. A pleasing range of producer sensibilities highlight the album, from Geoff Michaels production of the Carole King/Gerry Goffin classic, Pleasant Valley Sunday to imaginative original tracks that we were co-produced by Lindsay and eclectic drummer/percussionist, Jo Puseri. The album features a cast of fine musicians, including guitarist Johnny Lee Schell, drummer and percussionist Nicole Falzone, chapman stick and bass player Larry Tuttle, violist Novi Novog, acoustic bass player Warren Giancaterino, legendary keyboardist Bill Payne, vocalist Jesse Fitzpatrick and others. What in the World delivers a satisfying combination of tasteful musicianship and impeccable recording quality.
