Details: This raw original country band, lead by singer/songwriter Trevor Murray, is just coming onto the scene. With a diverse musical background, this Country group has come together to deliver a mix of heartbreak ballads and kick up your heels party time Saturday night country roots rock n roll. Based out of White Rock/Langley, BC Canada, each member of the band contributes something very unique to the overall sound of the band. Trevor Murray has been writing and singing as long as he can remember but it was always behind the scenes. It took a little pushing, but now hes doing what he loves. Jimmy grew up playing rockabilly guitar in Winnipeg bands, and now stepped up and plays bass and contributes sweet harmonies to the overall mix. Johnny is lead guitar player for the band, and he brings a real bluesy, eastern Canada style guitar sound to the band. Noel does it all. Hes on the drums, the keyboards, harmony vocals, and even the train whistle from time to time. Together the Murray Band is just releasing their debut album, Down this Road. It was recorded on Analog at Turtle Recording Studios in White Rock BC, with help from good people like Larry Anschell, Keith Stein, and Craig Waddell. With a real unique country sound, and no end to original songs, the Murray Band is here to stay.
