Gregorian Chant in midtown Manhattan?? Yes-supplied by New York's finest performers in a live recording from a living mass 500 years old. 28 MP3 Songs CLASSICAL: Traditional, CLASSICAL: New Age Details: The Second Vatican Council declared that the musical tradition of the universal Church is a treasure of inestimable value, greater even than that of any other art. The Council fathers then commanded that the treasure of sacred music be preserved and fostered with very great care. The Church of St. Agnes, located near Grand Central Terminal in midtown Manhattan, has for many years been prominent in the effort to obey the Council's orders. The Tridentine Latin Mass is celebrated every Sunday, with music provided by some of New York City's finest professional musicians. This CD offers a sample of the rich variety of music offered at St. Agnes. Since the selections on the CD are from live recordings there are inevitably occasional flaws, as well as background noises ranging from Sanctus bells to crying babies. These imperfections are retained as evidence that the Latin Mass, far from being a museum or a concert hall, is in fact a vital part of an active parish.
