A highly emotional, modern classical and jazz solo piano improvisation from lyrical to very intense 17 MP3 Songs CLASSICAL: Contemporary Details: I never imagined doing a solo piano CD that was entirely improvised. But fate doesn't ask questions. Here is my very personal, modern classical and impressionistic sounding, almost immediate reflection upon 9/11. "This recording is a transformation of the events of September 11, 2001 in New York City; of the pain and loss inflicted on all of us, and the heroism we otherwise would not have known. ... I will never forget the complete devastation I witnessed and the sight of Ground Zero itself. With no preconceived song, melody or form, only the desire to transform what I had seen and felt, I went into the studio. This is the way it went song for song. Brooklyn, NY October 2, 2001" For more info go to: ulimusic.com/transformation.0.html
