POP: British Pop, ROCK: Modern Rock Details: Bluebox is a confluence of musical forces with an agenda for success and the talent and work ethic to back it up. All four members have spent time at the Musicians Institute in Hollywood perfecting their craft. Be it singing, songwriting, or instrument playing, the talent and professionalism of all four individuals is evident in their self-titled debut album. Comprised of four young men from diverse backgrounds--musically and otherwise--Bluebox is an entity completely original and entirely genuine. It is something of an anomaly that so much musical experience--combined, more than fifty years--should be found in such a young group. Drawing from diverse influences ranging from melodic pop to jazz fusion, Bluebox creates music that is both catchy and intricate. Singable melodies, rich harmonies, and pensive lyrics provide a front to driving, often danceable rhythms and tight, fluid instrumentals. Bluebox's live show is a seamless combination of the raw, physical energy one might experience at a rock show, and the technical proficiency one would expect from a veteran jazz outfit. Soulful throughout, Bluebox's live show makes singing and dancing along seem involuntary.
