Jeep (original drummer for The Samples) has come out from behind his kit to break new ground for those who share his eclectic musical tastes. Creating his own unique style of chunky rhythms and contagious melodies, Jeep has metamorphosed from drummer for a platinum national independent act, to a solo headliner. As a singer/songwriter, Jeep has done four national tours since the release of his self-titled debut album, including numerous high profile support slots. Performing for sold out crowds from Roseland in New York City, to the Fillmore in Denver, Jeep has garnered a national fan base with an undeniable craving for his urgent and enthusiastic songs. In addition, his songs have appeared on several compilation albums, The Fox Sports Network, and in an Endurance Films movie. Most recently, Jeep has been hard at work in the studio and just completed his second solo record, Cool & Easy. Look for a very special guest appearance by Michael Rose from Black Uhuru. Jeep will be on tour this fall with fellow band members, Sid Greenbud on bass and Sam Young on drums.
