Literate, sophisticated pop that will remind listeners of the favorite songs from pop icons like XTC, Jellyfish, Rufus Wainwright and more. Soaring harmonies, tapestry-woven arrangements and surprising turns at every listen... 10 MP3 Songs POP: British Pop, POP: 70's Pop Details: Remember when music was made by people who played instruments, could sing like angels and wrote the kind of classic pop gemgallygows that stuck in your head all day? Well, Minneapolis' four prodigal sons, the Vestals do. Their self-titled masterpiece is a sublime slice of melodic perfection that has earned praise from esteemed publications including Amplifier, Ink 19 and a recent Rollingstonereview that said of the music of the Vestals: "...speaking of harmonies, brothers Ben and Jeremy Gordon's voices are magnet and steel..." Some background: Raised in a musically nurturing household, brothers Ben and Jeremy Gordon developed their songwriting skills at ripe young ages. This soon became a catalytic source of competition and they feverishly developed their individual styles, but both were vindicated by separately making the finalist round at the 2000 John Lennon Songwriting Contest. Together they've honed their skills, challenged each other, and mixed their different sounds through several projects over the years, finally cumulating the formation of the Vestals in 2003. To categorize their sound, one would have to jump musical ages and genres from the 1920's all the way through today's prominent singer-songwriters like Ben Folds and Rufus Wainwright. Some artists can say that they are influenced by the Beatles or Elvis Costello, but with the Vestals you can actually hear their true essence in the foundation of the song structure and the brothers' mesmerizing harmonies. Although only their first label release, this album packs a full punch of memorable songs that will leave your player on "replay" and leave your humming the tunes long after they've stopped. Listen up, 'cause they're coming to a radio station near you... Their self-titled debu was recorded at the Terrarium Recording Studio in Minneapolis and the band has been touring regularly, so please keep a watch out for dates in your fine city.
