theresacd.com December 2003. As so many have heard by now, Keiko's incredible journey has ended. Mark Berman, Associate Director of the Free Willy Keiko Foundation is developing an expanded version of the Keiko's Dream Tour now called Keiko's Legacy Tour with Theresa Demarest. Over the last several years, Mark Theresa have presented The Keiko's Dream Tour for many theaters, community events and schools throughout the Pacific Northwest and will continue to share Keiko's journey and the hope his life's legacy holds for the future of Orca whales and the health of our oceans. The sale of this CD titled Keiko's Dream benefits the Free Willy Keiko Foundation and supports the purpose of Keiko's Legacy Tour: to provide an event that brings the Orca Whale right into the room with the use of musical instruments, community art, and recent footage and events provided by a personal representative of the Free Willy Keiko Foundation. For more Information visit Theresa Demarest's website at theresacd.com and /or keiko.com Press Bites: 2001 OREGONIAN Portland OR (Katy Muldoon)..."When the drums go tap, tap, tap the clicks of the Orca call. When piano notes whisper, crest and crash, like a killer whale breaching at sea. Together, they form an instrumental jazz tune call "Keiko's Dream". Together they illustrate Theresa Demarest's awakening as a musician with a message - a singer-songwriter who yearns to be a voice for the oceans an especially a voice for Keiko..... jazz blues neo-Folk Fusion. and Orca. Especially Orca" 2000 PORTLAND CITYSEARCH

(Curtis Waterbury, Music Editor): Theresa Demarest's latest CD titled "KEIKO'S DREAM" is her "...strongest effort yet. Demarest has always crafted a good song-her unique rhythmn guitar work, country-style vocals and endearing lyrics blend together perfectly ..Besides the great infusion of jazz, blues, and folk, "Keiko's Dream also represents the next step in this singer-songwriter's evolving career....Good Company indeed".
