Sthesizer composes music primarily with a modular synthesizer. He always seems to find a ratio between random and fixed melody lines that some call golden. Inspired by J.S. Bach, Mozart, Chopin, Aphex Twin, Sting, Danny Elfman, and others, Sthesizer always seems to be able to find his own voice--a creative and calming one. Formally trained as a pianist, composer, and electronic musician, Sthesizer is always fascinated with the new avenues of synthesis that lead him to new perspectives of working within his chosen electronic instrument, the modular synthesizer.
