On this much anticipated 2nd release, Shannon's beautifully crafted songs carry you through a CD spiced with driving bluegrass instrumentals, featuring the usual Splinters cast along with special guests John Reichman on mandolin and Steve Dawson on slide 10 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Bluegrass, COUNTRY: Country Folk Details: This is smooth British Columbia bluegrass and more from a fine Vancouver fiddler and singer who's also a longtime member of The Paperboys. Shannon Saunders is a smokey-voiced singer with a Norah Jones-like depth in her voice, and her songwriting and fiddling draw from country, gospel, and Celtic sources as well as traditional bluegrass roots. There's plenty of down-home fiddle, banjo, and high harmonies on this disk, like on the travelling song "See You in the Morning" and "San Juan Worm", a classic breakdown featuring Splinters banjo player Cam Salay, plus some different sounds too, like the traditional "Dark Hollow" arranged as a midtempo shuffle with slide guitar, or the slow, meditative fiddle tune "Bell Housing". Don't worry about getting splinters in your fingers; Cold November is a disk that fans of modern bluegrass will want to grab. (TN) Dirty Linen 2004
