Although Ive composed most of these songs years ago and have performed them live many times, recording and capturing the spirit of such a collection is not always easy. The road from heart, to mind, to fingers is a difficult one. To help focus and find my way, I recorded at night when most of the city was sleeping and fireflies were illuminating outside my window. It is my hope that these warm acoustic tones and intimate sounding melodies bring you the listener, a feeling of mystery and wonder as I attempt to dream out loud.

Sincerely, Jim Green The Wandering Endorphin "Green's show was a musical and visual treat for the audience" Eric Schelkoph - The Kane County Chronicle "Green's percussive overhand attack often sounds like two guitars for the price of one - with a bongo and harmonica player for free." Bruce Ingram - Pioneer Press "If you think you've heard the way an acoustic guitar is to be played, think again. This sing/songwriter is like no other" Jeff Berry - Rising Music "Green continues his tradition of astounding the audience" Rachel Yackley - The Daily Herald
