BLUES: Chicago Style,

BLUES: Blues Vocals Details: Voodoo DeVille is a five piece band working out of the Philadelphia area. The band was formed in 1998 by a group of like-minded guys who enjoyed the blues and enjoyed playing them even more. While Chicago blues is our starting point, we've ventured into jump, boogie woogie, early rock 'n roll, and rockabilly. We count many of the greats as our idols and influences but we don't feel bound to stick strictly to one style or one way of playing. If it's fun to play, then it's in our set list. It's never failed - when we have fun, our audience has fun. And that's why we do it. Voodoo DeVille's lineup includes Buddy "Pops" Cleveland on harp vocals; Steve "the Professor" Cocchi on keyboards, guitar vocals; and George "Rooster" Dulchinos also on guitar. The rhythm section, with Ray "T-Bone" Bentley on bass and John "the Delaware Destroyer" Gooding on drums, make it all hang together. We're here to have fun - how about you? You can find out more about the band on our web site at voodoodeville.com. Enjoy!
