From the heart earnest blues this CD covers the spectrum and emerges as a feel good musical journey that honors the blues tradition yet pays tribute to it's contemporary transition along the way. 13 MP3 Songs BLUES: Rhythm Blues, URBAN/R&B: Rhythm Blues Details: See Magazine's recent review of Mackey's new CD Mr. Blues captures the essence of his approach to music, to performance and to life a reminder they say that the blues is not about being down on yourself; it's about using the music to lift your spirit and celebrate John Valenteyn Toronto Blues Society Wes Mackey's second album is an extremely satisfying CD of contemporary blues, with a varied program of originals and covers. The originals are particularly strong with "Who Do Da Voodoo?", "AngelGirl", "In My Neighbourhood" and especially "Mr. Blues" very much the equal of some of the more famous numbers here. "Mr. Blues" has a lyric worth quoting: "Mr. Blues, sorry but you have to go. Just got a letter from my baby and you can't stay here no more." Mackey is in top T-Bone Walker mode and it is good! An easy-going vibe permeates the CD and three Jimmy Reed songs take advantage of this. This style is not as easy to play as it seems but the band does just fine here. The choice of "I'll Play The Blues For You" for the album would normally be criticized but it fits the mood of the CD like a glove. Oliver Conway co-produced with Mackey and adds harp where needed. Kenny Blues Boss' Wayne is on keys and either Chris Nordquist or Alex McKinnon on drums for most of the songs. Other players are here as well contributing mightily to a highly recommended CD. REAL BLUES" Andy Grigg.. This is his best work.. "QUAI DU BLUES in Paris says ..he has that rare quality only truly great blues artists have; to create an immediate and unforgettably intimate connection with his listeners..
