It is composed using a blend of nature sounds and various effects along with synthesis and guitars. It is mostly instrumental. There are separate and sometimes inter-twined themes to each recording. I tell stories and paint pictures using my music. It is visionary and inspiring. Background: FireCloud Productions started as a pet project of mine following a lay off from my job. And from there it's just taken off seeing a total of 11 CD projects since my first release in 1998. My sound is certainly new age and instrumental in nature, but I deviate from stereotypes and refuse to be categorized. All of my songs however share one unique thing, which is an uplifting spirit and a sound that could almost be found in nature. In 1998 I fell prey to a hostile corporate takeover, and was without work for almost a year; during this time I set up a modest studio in my house and began recording. What happens in the studio is even beyond me to try and figure out. The songs just keep coming. I released the first 2 CDs within the remained of that year, immediately followed by 3 more the next year. Now with a total of 11 CD projects to date I am continuing stronger than ever. I have established numerous sites, and my own domain and server with online, streams, samples, and multiple sales options.
