Beatles-pop Details: Are you looking for melodic, Brit-inspired indie pop with smart lyrics? Sure... we all are. Welcome to Eat the Sun. Eat the Sun melds influences from the best of the British and indie traditions with the hard edge of '90s grunge. D.J. Hofer's gritty Lennon tenor plucks his soberly crafted melodies out above the sonic clockwork of his guitar, Paul Bohak's precisely ebullient percussion, and Josh Mitchell's slick and solid bass. You want polish? You want songwriting savvy? You want hooks that you'll be humming for days? You want this CD.
