Violinist Kristin Garson plays the music of Richard Burton, Ron Thomas and Ray Ferretti. The music is the mixture of jazz, folk, rock and modern classical styles. Kristin comes to this music with extensive classical training. She has B.M. from the Eastman School of Music and M.M. from the Manhattan School of Music in Violin performance. She has performed with Delaware Symphony and Harrisburg Symphony. She has worked with Richard Burton in a duo playing both original compositions, jazz standards and classical music. Ron Thomas has a long association with the experimental musical tradition both as both a Classical Composer and a Jazz pianist. In 1972, Ron recorded with Pat Martino, (Live!) and with saxophonist Eric Kloss (One, Two, Free). Go to ronthomasmusic.com, vectordisc&richardburtonmusic.com for more information.
