One of the premier blues bands in Asia - tight and funky. Clearly from the very professional production and presentation of this album...the best parts of this album are as good as many American blues bands which are at recording level (in other words, as good as some of the musicians that I record). Thanks for sharing some very good music. Bruce Iglauer - Founder of multiple-Grammy nominated Alligator Records, USA The sheer enthusiasm the band generates in audiences would be hard to match in Europe and the USA, let alone Australia and Asia...The world needs a new slant on the blues in the twenty first century and that's a 'universal' truth. Victor Brox - British Blues pioneer Universal Blues Band...pushing a rip-roaring club blues sound... and the nice cover of Robert Johnson's "Walking Blues" is given an uptempo, funky treatment that transcends most versions. Blues Revue (USA), issue #66 (April 2001 edition) "This is just great. These guys are having a ball and its shows. The playing is first class...four stars" (Rated excellent) Guitarist Magazine (June 2001) "This group has just the right virile voice, giving an understated, overall authenticity to just about everything they touch. 3 out of 5 stars." Terry Reilly, The West Australian, Thursday, November 30 2000 Get on the blues train has received airplay and radio chart features in America, Spain, France, Italy, Canada, Singapore, Australia, Greece and more.
