Dear Reader, Let me ask you a simple question. Are you having the kind of success in life that you are happy with? If you are that's great but if not, you might want to pay close attention to what you are about to read. We live in a world where everything is instant. Take our food as an example. Push a button on a microwave or drive through a fast food line and you have a meal...instantly! And what about entertainment? Movies, interactive games and sports are all available on demand. Put in a disk or click a few buttons and its all there for you...instantly! About the only thing we cant have instantly is success and money. Oh sure, there are a few exceptions. Some people are born to it while others win the lottery. How realistic are those options? Not very. The average Joe or Jane are far removed from the likelihood of winning the lottery. Is There Another Way? Yes, which brings us to our author. Michael Russo relates very well to the subject of instant gratification or at least comes pretty darn close. After amassing his first million dollar business by age 26 he found himself broke and homeless with his wife and two children by age 28. When you read his bio youll learn that he is the first to admit that loss was a result of rapid expansion and exponential growth. In plain terms, too much too soon. What Will I Learn? Dont be fooled by the title, Passive Millionaire. Michael has been through the fire and there is nothing passive about his message. Dont worry, youll find your definition inside. This question might best be answered with another question. What will you not learn? You wont learn anything about: * Pay per click * Article writing * eMail marketing * Facebook * Cost per action * Twitter Learn how youve been lied to about success and financial freedom. Discover why get rich quick is a misnomer and you must re-program your thoughts to think rich quick. Discover how your mind works against you and gives you exactly what you think you want. No, this isnt some mumbo-jumbo. Michael lays it out for you. Would you believe that you can pretend your way to becoming financially successful? Youll learn this strategy early in the guide and you wont believe how simple it is. Find out how Michael pulled himself back from the brink of suicide and physiological damage after his initial failure. More important, learn how he overcame his circumstances. and some of the best parts are . . . * Its very easy to read. * It starts teaching you the tools from the very beginning * The price is ridiculous! Time for Action Look, we can go on and on about Passive Millionaire but the only way to find out if these tools work for you is to read your own copy. And dont think you can breeze through this guide like you were reading the normal 30 to 40 page ebook. No way. Passive Millionaire is a jam-packed 200+ page guide!
