PHAM! has also been called, "the sound of summer, coming soon to a theatre in your ears" by DJ Stan Hilborn, aka Spaceman Stan of 98.5 FM CKWR. Songwriter, vocalist, guitarist, multi-instrumentalist, producer and music industry educator Bob Porembski - drummer, songwriter, vocalist Ken Higgins - and bassist, vocalist Jim Murphy not only put their musical talents together to form the band, they put the first letters of their last names together as well to form the acronym -- the bands name -- PHAM! The trio performed virtually non-stop for 10 years in the NY tri-state area. At the peak of their popularity, anywhere from 1500 to 3000 people would squeeze into college and high school auditoriums as well as teen clubs and bars to enjoy the bands unique harmony. PHAM! not only played the hits of the day but also chronicled the times with their finely crafted pop tunes, written by Bob and his oft times collaborator, Ken. The story of PHAM! is one of camaraderie, talent and perseverance. Their new CD "ac-ro-nym...", is an album with 1960s rock sensibility that takes full advantage of the fidelity of 21st Century technology. Lovingly produced by Bob Porembski, it captures the part of PHAM! that once was and redefines what PHAM! is now. And the songs have proven to be timeless. The song that leads off the CD, "Good Morning, I Love You" was featured on the edgy TV comedy, "Good Girls Dont".
