In 1991 Al landed his first job in the entertainment industry, as recording engineer with the Eddie Murphy owned Bubble Hill studios. Within a few short years he changed his focus and began to produce Hip Hop music. Early in 1993 while working with artists he decided to pass the down time in the studio by recording his own parody versions of various R&B and Hip Hop hits. The concept blossomed into a unique style of Hip Hop humor, which gave birth to original songs, parodies, hilarious sketches and outrageous characters. In the spring of in 2000, Al was asked by Star Buc Wild, the hottest radio personalities on the east coast, to bring his style of humor to the Hot97 morning show. They began playing Al's parody of J-Zs "Jigga" entitled "Gina" periodically through out the show and the calls started coming in. The insertion of Al's parodies into the Morning show format worked so well that in June of 2001 he was hired to deliver short parodies for the show on a weekly basis. Acknowledging Crazy Al's comedic creativity and producing skills, Star Buc Wild chose Al to produce their first comedy album on Def Jam Records. Since then Crazy Al's parodies have been played on radio shows across he country such as Doctor Demento, Sway's Renegade Radio (Hot97 NY) and The CoCo Brother "Home Team"(ATL), and The Morning Show with Big Boy (LA). Currently Al is promoting his new album entitled. Guest appearance include, Morning show personalities Star and Buc Wild, Eddie Murphy, Charlie Murphy, and SNL's Tracy Morgan. In addition, Crazy Al Cayne has recorded three independent projects. The "Pimpappalooza" , "Ghetto Christmas Carols" , and"The Greatest Skits Vol#1" albums are all primed and ready for future release. As a professional actor, Crazy Al has appeared in several TV shows such as "Saturday Night Live" and "The Guiding Light". He recently appeared in the motion pictures, "Hells Kitchen" which stars Angelina Jolie and Mekhi Phifer, as well as "Unfaithful" starring Richard Gere and Dianne Lane. Crazy Al Cayne is a multi-talented artist, actor, writer, producer, and performer on a quest to become a house hold name.
