Details: Dr LUTEX is the screen name of Joel Parker Laughlin. It is also the name under which he composes and publishes music. Dr LUTEX has lots of irons in the fire. For instance, he really is a doctor. He has practiced family and urgent care medicine in Denver since 1988. He is also an evening division JD student at the University of Denver College of Law. His most recent compulsion however is creating music at home. With the help of various computer interfaces, Dr LUTEX has found a way to take the music that's been bouncing around inside his head for the past few decades and make it real and available to you. This provides a potent outlet for creativity in addition to guitar, keyboards, and drums.
