LISTEN. Traditional Christmas songs in a fresh Latin style with piano as the lead instrument, a complete rhythm section, trumpets, violins, spanish guitar, accordion, and various latin percussion instruments. Very inspiring and thought provoking. 13 MP3 Songs LATIN: General, EASY LISTENING: Mood Music Details: Christmas Lights and Latin Nights is an inspiring CD! A blend of traditional with a fresh new approach to Christmas music. Sometimes instrumental music speaks in ways that songs that are sung cannot. People who listen to this are buying several CD's to give as gifts to family and friends because they know they will love the music. Listen and get hooked. Randall Ames is a composer/arranger residing in southern California where he owns and operates a digital recording studio. It is there where he constructs his works of art from the initial inception to the finished product--the written arrangement and the recording. With a vast array of software synthesizers and digital recording equipment, he fashions the ideas, the structure, the arrangements and the orchestrations into a complete recording and then engraves the music for publication. In his studio he performs every note, every instrument, and every nuance you hear, with the help, of course, of his digital musicians. Randall's credits include original songs and arrangements of songs in many genres. He has also written arrangements for symphonic band and orchestra. Some of his most inspiring original compositions were written for piano, musical theater, big band, contemporary and traditional Christian, and various other genres.
