World music blending soul and funk flavor with South African harmonies. 7 MP3 Songs WORLD: African, WORLD: African- South Details: Saul Malinga is a South African. Recording Engineer Producer playing Guitar/Bass an all round Songwriter. "Abanguni" (The Nguni people) is the cross sounds from Township jive, funk music pop with a bit of Jamaican Rap, great South African back up Harmonies with high energy, very good songs that have the seventies and eighties feel with today's sounds most live recording.

Saul, with the experience from 70's up to what's happening now, makes his style sound different from fellow South African musicians. This is original material. Caiphus Semenya (his mentor) has worked with the greatest American musicians producers including Quincy Jones, is like an elder brother to him, still giving him a lot of advice working together. Saul now based in London hope any people will listen to his music. For more information, check out his "Thuthuka" CD on CD Baby as well. He's now working on his new album, we hope you will enjoy this one!
