Do you have ideas for audio products but want to make sure that your tracks have opening and closing music to let people know you're a pro? Have you always wondered where to look for professional quality music that you can use in your digital products? If you answered yes to any of these questions, I have something very important to share with you today. Read this letter for the full scoop... 101 Royalty Free Music Clips Premium Audio Tracks To Give Your Audio Projects That Professional Hollywood Feel! Dear Friend, If you're at this webpage, there's no doubt that you already have an audio product or are considering creating one. This is an incredible opportunity for you! Audio products have proven to be much more profitable than a digital eBook product because they offer such a personal education experience. Instead of reading a boring book, manual or course, the user can actively listen and really "get into" the product. This also makes learning easier as they can listen to it while they work in their headphones or while they write notes as they listen. Frankly, you shouldn't even be considering creating any text based product because audio will ALWAYS outsell the text based product. I don't make the rules. This has been tested and audio has proven to be AT LEAST 3 times more profitable than text. If that isn't enough to get your blood running and decide audio is for you then you might want to pinch yourself! One thing that you may not know is that... There Is A Dark Side To Creating Audio Products That Many "Would Be" Success Stories Fall Into... Now, I know that you're probably thinking "A dark side? C'mon, we're just talking about creating audio products here!" so let me explain what I'm talking about... When many people create audio products or audio for their websites, they slap it together and forget a very important element... That element is music. I'm not talking about full songs or anything like that. What I'm referring to is opening and closing tracks that let people know they are dealing with a professional business. These are the same type of tracks you hear on audio products such as Personal Power by Anthony Robbins or Plimseur Language Learning CD's. If you don't have these you fall into the category of sounding... Homemade. The last thing that you want is for a customer or POTENTIAL customer to hear is an audio on your website or in your product that sounds like you recorded it in your bedroom. Don't get me wrong, you CAN record your audio at home just as I do but you MUST have the opening and closing tracks to add that professional, Hollywood flare to your audio projects. But all of this surely has you asking...
